

At Drs Heringhaus we are focused on helping stop the spread of the coronavirus (COVID-19). As a result we have made changes to the service that we are providing at this time. According to the Ohio State Dental Board, the Center for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), and Governor DeWine, non-urgent dental care is to be postponed for at least the next three weeks. During this time we are available to see our patients for dental emergencies.

A big question we are hearing is “what is a dental emergency?” A dental emergency includes pain, swelling, bleeding or any type of unexplained discomfort.

We are here to answer your questions. If you need to make an appointment or ask questions, you can call 419-524-7409. We can assess whether an appointment is needed at this time.

If you have an appointment scheduled in the next few weeks, we will be calling you to reschedule if necessary. We ask that you wait for our call before reaching out to us. Thank you for your patience and flexibility.

From all of us at Drs. Heringhaus we are wishing you and your loved ones good health at this time. We are closely monitoring any updates from the state authorities, and plan to reopen as soon as it is possible. We will remain in touch with updates to our schedule as this situation evolves.
